

Urmston Grammar School Closure Contingency Plans

The following document outlines the steps which will be taken by Urmston Grammar School to continue teaching students if there is a period of unexpected partial or complete school closure during term time. This could be school closure due to adverse weather or snow, or for any other unforeseen event.

Day 1

On the first day of an unexpected school closure students will be set independent learning tasks on SatchelOne for the lessons they would be expecting to complete that day. This work is to be completed at home and either submitted electronically or upon return to school as per the direction of subject teachers.

Day 2

If the unexpected school closure extends into a second day steps will be taken to bring virtual lessons on MS teams for some lessons. Independent learning tasks set on SatchelOne will continue in subjects where virtual lessons are yet to begin.

If the period of school closure looks likely to extend beyond a week, students and parents/carers can expect to receive a more formalised update on how the arrangements for remote learning will continue. This will be dependent on the nature of the reasons for the school closure and the information available at the time.
