

Mad, Bad and Dangerous: an exploration of threatening women in literature and film

By Mrs McNally

What makes female villains more frightening than their male counterparts?

We will start somewhere in the middle, with an exploration of infamous Victorian vampires and terrifying secrets locked away in attics. From there, we will journey across literature and time to investigate some of Shakespeare's scariest women and how they have influenced the contemporary depictions of frightening figures we see in literature, television and film today.

- Thursday 6th March
- 5pm – 6pm
- Urmston Grammar Theatre
- Everyone is welcome

Our community lecture series has been designed to provide a super-curricular opportunity for students, particularly those in the 6th form, to experience university level teaching with an expert in their field.
