October 7th 2019

Dear Parent

Following data analysis and discussions between class teachers I have identified students who I consider to be at risk of under-performing in the forth-coming November mock exams (and beyond). I am writing to you because your son / daughter was on this list. This means a new intervention strategy will now be put in place in order to ensure that significant improvement is made in time for the Year 11 mock exams in November 2019.

I have arranged for a Geography tutor to lead some study sessions on Monday afternoons, after school, in G3. These will begin on Monday 28th October, starting at 3pm and lasting approximately 40 minutes. Attendance will be monitored, as will submission of any work set at these sessions.

Also your son / daughter will be asked to rewrite their responses to the Year 10 exam paper. Fresh copies of the paper will be distributed before the October holidays, class teachers have previously spent time going through the paper and analysing the mark scheme and students have had time to do corrections and seek further help if needed. The completed paper should be submitted to class teachers on the first lesson back after the October half term.

Please note GCSE drop in sessions are already up & running. These take place on Monday lunch times, and an early lunch pass can be obtained from class teachers. Attendance at these sessions had a really positive impact on last years under-achievers.

I hope that you find this information useful and that together we can ensure success for your son / daughter. Please do get in contact should you wish to discuss the matter further.

Yours faithfully
